RUSHVILLE IS GIVEN AMBULANCE CORPS

Reorganization of Indiana National Guard Awards Quite a Distinction to This City

ONLY THREE IN THE STATE

Other Branches of Service Will Include 25 Cities—Action Expected Here Soon

Rushville has been designated as one of three cities in Indiana that will have an ambulance corps in the new Indiana National Guard that is being planned for this state according to an announcement made by Adjutant General Harry B. Smith, when the new plans were laid before him at a conference held in Indianapolis Saturday afternoon.

Besides Rushville, the other two places mentioned are Frankfort and Marion. The new National Guard is to be organized under the provisions of the national defense act approved by congress on June 5.

If the plans now under way mature, it will mean that Rushville will be the headquarters for an ambulance corps, in which physicians and surgeons of this section of the state, together with officers, will assemble here in case of any emergency that the national guard is called upon to take part in.

Dr. Lowell M. Green, when interviewed today stated that he knew that his city was being considered as a unit and it is expected that Adjutant General Smith will be here in the near future to secure the help of Rushville citizens in locating the corps here.

It will probably mean that several army ambulances will be stationed here ready for duty, and members of the corps will go from here to the place where the government sends them.

The recommendations for the reorganization of the Indiana National Guard, includes that 25 cities will have part in the organization and in most cases the cities designated are much larger than Rushville, which fact alone should be recognized as an honor for this city.

Branches of the services to be included in the Indiana units are artillery, infantry, cavalry, engineers, ambulance, signal corps and a field hospital. The minimum enlisted strength for companies organized under the new law is fifty men.

Distribution of the different units mentioned above were recommended to be placed in the following cities:

Artillery—Kokomo, Monticello, South Bend, Fort Wayne, Madison, Lafayette, Bloomington and Indianapolis.

Infantry—Goshen, Fort Wayne, Richmond, Shelbyville, Newcastle, Mishawaka, Evansville, Bloomington, Gary, Michigan City, Crawfordsville, Elkhart and Indianapolis.

Cavalry—Terre Haute, New Albany and Indianapolis.

Engineers—Gary, Hammond, East Chicago, Terre Haute, Lafayette

What will Bryan do and will he control the convention?

What will the party do about the liquor question?

GWYNNEVILLE CHURCH HOLDS HOME-COMING

Rev. Fred Dennis Former Pastor of Church and Known Here Delivers Home Coming Address

BASKET DINNER AT NOON.

Home coming day was observed at the Gwynneville United Brethren church Sunday and a large crowd attended the services in spite of the inclemency of the weather. One of the pleasing features of the day was the delicious basket dinner served at the noon hour.

Following the Sunday school at 9:30 o'clock, the children of the church presented a program of recitations, songs, solos and duets, which was greatly appreciated by the audience.

In the afternoon a praise service was conducted at 1:30 o'clock and at 2:30 p. m. the home coming address was delivered by the Rev. Fred Dennis, of Dayton, Ohio, a former pastor of the Gwynneville church. His sermon was very well received by those present and the Rev. Mr. Dennis was very highly praised. Mr. Dennis is also known in this city having graduated from the local high school. Rev. T. A. Garriott is pastor of the church and much of the success of the day is accredited to him.

MRS. J. FEUDNER DIES AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS

Former Rushville and Indianapolis Woman Expires in Denver Friday at Midnight

BURIAL IN INDIANAPOLIS

Mrs. Jacob Feudner, age 56 years died Friday midnight at her home in Denver, after being ill for a week, death resulting from uremia and hardening of the arteries. Mr. and Mrs. Feudner left Rushville five years ago for Denver, Mr. Feudner being a former editor and publisher of the Daily Republican of this city.

Mrs. Feudner was a native of Indianapolis and during the short time that she lived in this city she became well known. The remains arrived in Indianapolis this afternoon and were taken to the home of a daughter, Mrs. E. H. Mitchell, 44 Layman, Ave., where funeral services will be conducted tomorrow.

Besides the husband, she is survived by three daughters by a former marriage, who are Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. C. C. Wallace of Indianapolis and Mrs. J. P. Smith of Fort Wayne and a sister and four brothers. Mr. Feudner could not accompany the remains to Indiana on account of the inadvisability of a sudden change of climate, which might affect his health.

SHELBY BOOSTS PRICES.

Shelbyville, Ind., June 21.—Efforts of the Noble Township Farmers Association to prevent an increase being made in the threshing prices for this year failed at the meeting of the Shelby County Threshermen's Association. The new rate established increased the price of threshing wheat 1 cent a bushel and rye 2 cents a bushel. The new rate established will be 5 cents for oats, 10 cents for wheat and 12 cents for rye.

TWO MACHINES GO INTO DITCH

Charles W. Jewett, Mayor of Indianapolis, Figures in Accident With Amos Glidden

CROSS ROADS NORTH OF HERE

Jewett's Machine is Badly Damaged But Occupants All Escape Without a Scratch

Two automobiles, one belonging to Mayor Charles W. Jewett of Indianapolis and the other to Amos Glidden, near Raleigh, were damaged in a collision north of Rushville late Saturday night, and the occupants in each machine escaped without injury, which is considered fortunate.

Both machines were going north, and the Jewett machine attempted to pass the Glidden machine and in so doing, scraped the running board, causing both machines to go into the ditch.

Mr. Glidden was accompanied by his wife and were returning home from this city, and were preparing to turn the corner at what is known as Hall's corner, a mile and a half west of Raleigh.

Mayor Jewett was accompanied by two other Indianapolis men, H. G. Winings and C. H. Elliott, the former being a stock buyer and the latter being cashier of the Fletcher American National bank in Indianapolis, and they were returning from Cincinnati, taking the north road out from here, heading toward the National road.

The Jewett machine was badly damaged, sustaining a broken front axle and other breakages which put the machine out of commission. The Indianapolis party came back to Rushville and secured a taxi for Indianapolis, it being too late to catch the last interurban car for that city.

The Glidden machine was also damaged, but was able to be taken to the Glidden home. Mr. Glidden's car was a closed roadster. The Jewett machine was brought to this city by garagemen, and will be repaired, before being taken to Indianapolis.

BEVERIDGE CONFERS WITH SEN. HARDING

Avows That He Will Support Republican Nominee and Will Make His Own Platform.

SPEAKS FOR THE LIBERALISTS

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 21.—Progressive and liberal republicans will support Warren G. Harding for president, but they will reserve the right to go beyond the republican platform on labor issues, ex-senator Albert J. Beveridge, Indiana, former Bull Moose, said today, following a conference with the republican nominee.

"Senator Harding is the nominee of the republican party, and we are going to support him," Beveridge said, "But I have my own views on labor questions and I will make my own platform when I get on the stump," Beveridge added.

He said, "Harding will have two objectives in the campaign, reservation of the party and the return to the constitutional plans of the government through party controls. It is a program that we who call ourselves Liberalists cannot unite in."

Beveridge called at Harding's request and is the first of a number of conferences with progressives in an attempt to unite all factions. Beveridge called just before Senator Harding went into a conference with national committeemen over campaign arrangements.

TWO LICENSES ARE ISSUED

The following marriage licenses were issued Saturday: Thomas M. Dewitt of Shelby county and Miss Florence Hewitt of this county; Carl Vannatte, a mail carrier and Mildred E. Jinks, daughter of Link Jinks, of this county.

4 ARE ARRESTED AFTER LONG CHASE

Ernest Stevens, George Stevens, Howard Ash and Sister Goldie Ash Cause Police Trouble

PATROLMAN PEA IS INJURED

Young People Celebrate July Fourth Prematurely and Cause Dis-urbance in City

Four young people of this city were arrested late last night, after a chase was given them by Patrolman Pea, and they were scheduled to appear in police court late this afternoon to answer to the charge of celebrating the Fourth of July prior to the day and with violating a city ordinance of shooting explosives in the city limits.

Those arrested were Ernest Stevens, driver of the automobile, George Stevens, Howard Ash and his sister Miss Goldie Ash. The quartet were in the business district shooting off large fire crackers, it is said, and then proceeded to all parts of the city, and at the late hour, complaints were registered against them.

Patrolman Pea secured an automobile and pursued them, and it was with much difficulty that he was able to head them off, and it was not accomplished until after the policeman had fallen off the machine badly injuring himself, that the young people decided to stop their machine. When stopped they were at the extreme end of North Main street.

Pea was jolted off of the running board of the machine on which he was riding, and was rolled in the ditch, sustaining a badly bruised leg, and an injured hand. When searched the crowd was found to have fire crackers, and the policeman is of the opinion that they also carried a gun.

Because of his injured condition, the policeman secured their names and told them to report in police court at four o'clock this afternoon. It is not decided just what charges will be placed against them, but it is likely that several charges will result, as the policeman said they were violating several city ordinances.

Patrolman Pea was able to be on duty today, but was in a crippled condition, as the result of his fall last night.

K. OF C. MINSTRELS CLEARED OVER $300

After Expenses Are Deducted a Good Sum Remains For New School Building Fund.

BANQUET IS PLANNED SOON

The Knights of Columbus minstrel show given last Thursday night at the Graham Annex auditorium showed the gross receipts to be almost $500, and after the expenses are paid, the show will net $314, which will go in the building fund for the new school building that will be constructed on the grounds at the St. Mary's church.

The K. of C. organization wishes to thank all of those who assisted in the success of the play, and especially the merchants who carried advertisements on the program.

Director A. A. Lease and Manager Earl Osborne of the show, and the end men, are planning on a banquet for all of those who took part in the show, but the date and place has not been definitely decided upon.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED IN APARTMENT BLAZE

Six Story Building Equipped With Automatic Locks is Death Trap During a Fire.

OCCUPIED BY 25 FAMILIES

(By United Press.)

Vancouver, British Columbia, June 21.—Four persons burned to death today in a fire that destroyed a six-story apartment building. Many of the twenty-five families were still in bed when the flames burst along the second floor corridor.

Corridors were filled with smoke. The doors of the apartments had automatic locks and when the occupants rushed into the hall to escape they could not return to their rooms because the doors were locked.

One man leaped from the sixth floor. He was a war veteran, taken prisoner by the Germans at Ypres, and his leg was amputated while a prisoner of war.

2ND 'OUTLAW' STRIKE IS NOW THREATENED

Strikers Maintain That Labor Board is Too Slow in Giving Decisions on Their Appeals

IS SPREADING VERY RAPIDLY

(By United Press.)

New York, June 21.—A second "outlaw" railroad strike today spread rapidly throughout the Eastern railroad centers.

What the men termed "unreasonable delay" by the railroad labor board in handing down its decision on appeals by railroad employees for higher wages, was given as the cause of the new walkout.

The strike first appeared Saturday in Philadelphia where several hundred switchmen were reported out. It spread to Baltimore, Syracuse, Camden and Wilmington.

The total number out at noon today was more than 2,000, according to estimates by railroad officials but strike leaders declared at least 10,000 had joined their ranks.

Passenger traffic was not affected but freight embargoes were announced.

W. N. Doak, vice-president of the brotherhood railroad trainmen union, who was in Washington today announced the railroad union may appeal to President Wilson to hasten the decision of the railroad labor board. Doak is attempting to induce the "outlaw" strikers to return to work.

RIOT BREAKS OUT AGAIN

Sinn Feiners and Unionists Exchange Bullets in London

London, June 21.—Wide spread rioting broke out in the streets of Londonderry again today between the Sinn Feiners and Unionists according to dispatches received here. Many families were evacuating the bullet swept cities. Looting and burning of homes continued. Police and military forces were unable to control the city.

The trouble began as workmen were on their way to the factories. One man was killed and many persons seriously injured.

GRAIN PRODUCERS TO HOLD MEETING

Officials Are Busily Engaged Making Arrangements For State Wide Conference June 28 and 29

TO BE HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS

Session Called For Purpose of Devising Ways to Move Wheat Crop Due to Car Shortage

Officers of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations are busily engaged in making arrangements for the state-wide conference of grain producers to be held in Indianapolis June 28 and 29. Representatives of the various county associations about the state, bankers, railroad officials, elevator men and officers of the Indiana Coal Operators' Association are among those being asked to attend the meeting. An effort is also being made to have a representative from the Federal reserve bank from this district to be present at the session which has been called primarily for the purpose of devising ways and means whereby the farmer may be able to move his wheat and oats crop in the face of the present shortage of transportation facilities.

General Secretary Lewis Taylor said that the grain producers are facing a serious problem in all parts of the state through the present car shortage and that elevator men are finding it impossible to get the necessary cars to move what grain they have on hand.

It has been pointed out that the wheat and oats, much of which will be hauled directly from the thrashing machine to the elevator, will make matters more serious in the way of congestion in the near future. This might mean that the farmers would have no outlet to market their product. A number of the county associations of the Federation have written into headquarters calling attention to conditions in their respective localities.

The coal shortage figures in the general problem because many counties are unable to get coal at this time due to the car shortage and they need the fuel for thrashing machines to operate. Secretary Taylor is to attend a meeting of general secretaries of farmers' organizations this week at Ames, Iowa, where the car shortage problem affecting this section in general will be one of the matters under discussion, and will report back to Indiana meeting any recommendations which may be made.

MEETS TO DISPOSE OF GERMANY'S INDEMNITY

Allied Supreme Council is in an Important Session Today at Bologne, Italy.

DISARMAMENT IS DISCUSSED

(By United Press.)

Bologne, Italy, June 21.—The meeting of the allied supreme council was formally called to order at 11:30 a. m. today. Final settlement of questions which have prevented Europe's return to economic stability and world peace was expected to be reached today when leading statesmen of all the allies assembled here. The chief purpose of today's meeting was disposal of the German indemnity and reparation.

There was evidence that the critical situation in the Near East, where Turkey nationalists are preventing execution of the treaty terms and seriously menacing the international peace of Italy and the Balkan states would have preference.

The following communique was issued shortly after the conference met: "The conference of the allied supreme council opened this morning and discussed German indemnity and the question of disarmament. Marshal Foch and General Wilson have been instructed to draft a note regarding disarmament and destruction of war materials. This note will be taken under advisement at the session to be held this afternoon."

Mocha Sheepskin.
The world's supply of Mocha sheepskin is obtained by about a dozen buyers, who have their native collectors, in caravans to collect the skins at various centers, of which Mocha, Berbera, Zeylah and Hodeidah are the main points. From there they are sent to Aden, a British coaling station, which, on account of its location, is the shipping point for skins sent to London, the continent of Europe, and the United States.

IMPROVE QUALITY OF STOCK

Tennessee Department of Agriculture Urges Breeders to Join Better Sires Crusade.

"Better sires—better stock." "A nation-wide crusade to improve the quality of cattle, horses, mules, swine, sheep, goats, and poultry in the United States."

"Every Tennessee who believes in better live stock should join this movement, begun by the United States department of agriculture."

"That is the first thing seen by the readers of the current issue of the Monthly Bulletin of the Tennessee department of agriculture."

"It means the passing of the scrub," the Bulletin continues.

"It means greater success in live-stock production and consequently greater prosperity for the people."

"Good-bred stock will outsell the scrub every time."

"If you want better stock consult the county agent in your own county or else write to the division of extension, Knoxville, Tenn."

"Now is the time to put Tennessee on the live-stock map."

"If you believe in better live stock and poultry join this movement. Tennessee has natural advantages for wonderful live-stock development, but the better sires' crusade will do much to hurry along this development."

BEEF PRODUCED FOR FAMILY

More is Bought From Village Butcher Than Is Raised on Farm—Little Veal Killed.

The farmer buys more beef than he takes from the farm. Only about 10 per cent of meat furnished by the average farm is beef. In the north and west the average consumption of beef per family is nearly 300 pounds and in the south it is less than 100 pounds, according to the United States department of agriculture.

The beef animal killed for home use may be a beef steer or an unprofitable cow, or a heifer that does not promise to be a good producer and would not bring a good price for beef on the market. Very little veal is killed on the farm for home use. Much of the beef bought by farmers is bought in the summer from village butchers who operate meat wagons or cars in the country. On the average farm there are no facilities for keeping fresh meat during warm weather.

SHEEP BUSINESS PROFITABLE

Study Being Made of Specialized Raising With Complete Reliance on Forage Crops.

Results of a farm sheep experiment reported by the United States department of agriculture show clearly the possibility of a profitable sheep-raising business upon eastern lands. At the government farm, Beltsville, Md., a study is being made of specialized intensive sheep raising with complete reliance upon forage crops for summer pasturage.

In 1916 a 30-acre area did not produce forage enough to feed satisfactorily 44 Southdown ewes and 33 lambs. This field is now capable of furnishing sufficient summer feed for 100 ewes with their lambs. The improvement is due in part to the application of manures, lime, and phosphates, but chiefly to the fact that leguminous crops were largely used and all crops were fed upon the ground. Under the system followed forage crops are seeded in rotation and the sheep are allowed such frequent changes of pasture as are necessary to prevent troubles from parasites.

Film Shows Treatment of Flock at Culling Time in Fall and on to Selling of Lambs.

A motion picture film dealing with sheep on the farm has recently been completed by the film laboratories of the United States department of agriculture in co-operation with the bureau of animal industry. The film is now available for use by county agents, county or state sheep-breeders' association, agricultural colleges, and other department or co-operative workers or agencies.

The film is in three sections and four reels. About 45 minutes is required for the showing of the whole production.

The subject treated in the first and second reel is a year with the flock on the farm, beginning in the fall at the time that the ewe flock should be culled prior to breeding, and carrying it on through until the lambs are sold. Each seasonal practice is brought out and educational points are featured. The third reel deals with the co-operative marketing of wool and lambs, and the fourth reel with the slaughtering of a million sheep, dressing the carcasses, and then cutting it up for meat consumption.

Irene Castle at the Princess

Irene Castle is the star in the Paramount Arterraft picture, "The Amateur Wife," which is coming to the Princess theatre tonight. The photoplay, which was adapted from a magazine story by Nalbro Bartley, concerns a young French convent girl who comes to America to live with her mother, a musical comedy queen. Her plain clothes and innocent ways get on her mother's nerves to such an extent that she is practically left to her own devices, being befriended only by an admirer of her mother's, Cosmo Spotswood.

The mother is killed by a jealous lover in a quarrel, and out of sympathy, Spotswood marries the girl. Their marriage is at first not a success. Spotswood leaves his wife for a foreign tour, but returns to find her a charming creature, she having blossomed into a lady of the world in the meantime.

William P. Carleton is Mrs. Castle's leading man, and the cast is a notable one. The picture was directed by Edward Dillon and scenarized by Jane Murnin.

Henry Walthall at Mystic

Henry B. Walthall, the screen star who is noted for his highly imaginative and strongly dramatic portrayals, adds new laurels to his reputation as Harry Sevier in "The Long Lane's Turning," being shown at the Mystic today.

Walthall is always at his best when the role calls for the conflict of two natures—the man degraded and the man rising triumphant from the depths. Such characters are registered with unflinching certitude and power, and in his latest play he has found material similar to the roles which established him as the peer of any actor on the screen.

The hold that liquor can get on the most highly organized brain and finest nature is driven home to the audience in the struggle which rages between the fiery demon and Harry Sevier's better nature. His temporary yielding to the craving results in almost wrecking a brilliant career. Drink was the primal cause of his misfortune, bringing him to the lowest depths of degradation and branding him a convict, albeit innocent of crime. His final release from his "Nemesis" is "The Long Lane's Turning," which justifies the title of the play.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH BALL GAMES SUNDAY

Tail Lights Will Play Lewisville Later But Tickets Will be Good for Next Sunday

PARK TEAM IS DISAPPOINTED.

The baseball game that was to have been played here yesterday between the Tail Lights and the Razz Jazz Babies of Lewisville was postponed, when the rain interfered. The game will be played later in the season, it was announced, but the management requested that all persons holding tickets for game yesterday, must use them next Sunday, when the Shelbyville Commercial will play here.

Rain also caused a postponement in the game at New Salem, when the Park Furniture company team of this city was expected to play at that place. The Park team was fitted out yesterday with their new uniforms, and made the trip to New Salem, hoping that the weather would clear so that a game could be played, but it was found that the diamonds were too wet, and the team returned to this city.

Several Rush county teams were ready to play yesterday but the games were all cancelled or postponed.

HOW MUCH MONEY DO YOU CARRY IN YOUR POCKET?

Money is used as a measure of value—it is necessary for all buying and selling. When you carry it in your pocket, even if you do not lose it, it is "out of circulation" and the business world is not able to use it until you spend it.

But if you deposit it in a bank you make money "easy" thus helping yourself and the community.

When you expect to use money soon the best way is to have a checking account.

But if you expect to wait several months before spending—then use the Savings Bank Plan.

THE ECONOMY CAR

All doubt of the Overland Four being entitled to the claim it makes was removed during the last week of April when demonstrations in ninety-seven cities throughout the United States produced a national average of 25.2 miles to the gallon of gasoline for the Overland Sedan with TRIPLEX SPRINGS.

This Economy Record

is all the more impressive because it represents tests in every section of the country under all sorts of conditions and over every class of roads, whether rough, smooth, hilly or level. In the south the average ranged from 27.7 to 20.5 miles. In Texas the test was made over city and country roads with windows open to a 25-mile wind. In the east the average for the various states ran from 26.4 to 18.9 miles. In the middle west the lowest average recorded was 19.8 and the highest 29.6 to the gallon. In the west the average was from 28.2 to 22.1 miles.

Men and Brains

Whatever your station in the business world, it was the use of your brains that placed you there.

If you have climbed the ladder of success, you have made good use of your brains have employed them to your advantage.

If you have slipped downward in the scale of life, you have failed to take proper advantage of the opportunities afforded you. You have held the business instinct of your brain in check. You have not permitted it to function properly.

Brains were made to use—not to abuse.

This fact should be kept well in mind by the young men of this community who are just entering the door of life's career. That career will depend upon the manner in which they employ their brains.

The enthusiasm of youth is natural and is to be expected. It is a valuable asset.

But enthusiasm should not be allowed to run its course unchecked. It should be curbed, lest it go over the brink of the commercial precipice.

The business world is full of precipices—destructive pitfalls for the feet of the impulsive and the unwary.

Our young men just entering upon their careers can not do better than to take sober counsel of himself, of his position, of his hopes in life.

The bridge to success can not be crossed in a day. It is long and there are many obstructions to baffle the novice in the world of affairs.

But brains properly employed will win.

Thirty minutes at the close of business each day can do wonders. The labors of the day can be analyzed. Was each task properly performed? How could it have been improved upon?

Let the brain answer those two questions properly each day and the problem of success in life will have been solved.

The human brain is like a garden. When cultivated it produces in abundance. If neglected it soon becomes a barren waste.

The young men of this community have brains—plenty of brains. We all want to see them grow and thrive.

Cultivation will do it.
Neglect will not.

Carter Glass Once Was Printer's Devil

A GENTLEMAN-FARMER FROM VIRGINIA, SEN

1858—Born at Lynchburg, Va.

1872—"Devil" in printing office.

1880—Reporter on Lynchburg Republican.

1885—Editor.

1899—Councilman at Lynchburg.

1899—1903—State Senator.

1901—Member State Constitutional Convention.

1902—1918—Congressman from Virginia.

1919—Secretary of the Treasury.

1920—United States Senator.

"From Printer's Devil to President"—may be the title of a new book should Senator Carter Glass of Virginia reach the White House.

Ever since he was 14 years old, when he filled the lowly office of "devil" in a Lynchburg, Va., newspaper, Glass has been in newspaper work.

Glass, known among his friends as the "gentleman-farmer from Virginia", was born in Lynchburg, January 4, 1858. His ancestors settled in the Valley of Virginia before the revolutionary war.

Glass is of Scotch-Irish descent. His early boyhood was one of fun and a good time up to the age of 14, and even after he reached that age Carter was known as a "baseball player of ability. His companions nicknamed him "Pluck" and to this day he is known to his closest associates as "Pluck" Glass.

Carter Glass did not receive the college education his parents intended he should for times were hard then, but he attended public and private schools of Lynchburg.

At the age of 14 Carter decided it was time to go to work and secured a "position" as "printer's devil" on the Lynchburg Republican. He was born in the newspaper "game" and has spent most of his life in it. From an apprentice printer Glass advanced himself to a reporter on the paper and later assisted his father in publishing and editing a newspaper in Petersburg, Va. At the present time Glass owns the Lynchburg News and the Lynchburg Daily Advance.

Carter is a home-loving man. He has four children. His two sons, Major Powell and Lieutenant Carter, Jr., served in France.

Glass' record in public life is remarkable in the degree of prestige he has achieved in a short space of years. At the age of 41, the only public office Glass had sought was that of clerk in the Lynchburg council. He held the position 20 years. He was not actively engaged in politics but strongly influenced the voting sentiments in that section of the country and was a leader in state party councils, as well as a member of the state executive committee.

Glass had a wide reputation as a writer throughout the state but little experience as a speaker. When the Democratic convention met in Roanoke in 1897, Glass made a "hot" speech and won the nomination for Major J. Hoge Tyler as Governor. Since that time he has been considered as a very forcible speaker.

In 1899 Glass made his first big step into politics when his friends persuaded him to run for a state senatorship. He was elected to that office and held it until 1902. When a special election was held for the sixth congressional district of Virginia, for a successor to the late Representative Otey, Glass ran for the office and was elected by a large majority.

He served nine successive terms in Congress and during his last term was very active. He was chairman of the house banking and currency committee, author of the present federal reserve system, and a member of the congressional committee that went abroad to tour the battlefields. On December 16, 1918, President Wilson appointed Glass as Secretary of the Treasury to succeed William G. McAdoo. During his term as a cabinet officer, Glass led the victory loan and liberty loan drives and urged loans for the starving countries of Europe.

Governor Davis of Virginia appointed Glass as senator from Virginia to succeed the late Thomas S. Martin. He resigned as Secretary of the Treasury January 2, 1920.

Since becoming a senator, Glass had been a strong supporter of the Wilson administration and is in favor of the League of Nations. He also recently expressed himself in favor of suffrage and even went so far as to request the Virginia legislature

Grub-Staking Society

MORE power is required to plow the fields of America than is used in all its factories.

In view of the decrease of man-power on the farms, the importance of motor-power is demonstrated easily. With hand-labor the time required to produce a bushel of wheat was a little over three hours. With improved machinery this has been reduced to ten minutes. Power machinery has multiplied the power of man eighteen times.

The gasoline engine is the only power unit embracing all requirements for farm work.

It looks as though it is up to gasoline to grub-stake society.

For years hand-labor has been leaving the farms and motor-power has been taking its place.

Long ago the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) realized that if America was to maintain its bounteous crop production there must be close cooperation between the Company and the farmer; therefore, the Company proceeded to build up through the farm districts of the Middle West the most complete system of distribution of oil products in the world.

This delivery system with its 3,780 bulk stations, its 7,000 motor trucks and tank wagons, its 1,300 Service Stations, and its personnel of 10,000 trained men, could not be built up in a month or in a year. It is the result of long and patient effort.

This immense system for the production and distribution of gasoline and other petroleum products is complete, installed and in full operation now, when it is needed as never before.

Glass has one hobby and that is his stock farm. His boyhood ambition to become a great ball player has been cast aside, although now and then he manages to "sneak off" to a ball game. This stock farm is the pride of Virginia and Campbell County's greatest exhibit. He is an excellent judge of cattle and hogs and has some of the finest stock in the country.

Couldn't Work But Little and Wife Also Sick—Spent Small Fortune in Search For Health.

"After such wonderful results as my wife and myself have gotten from Tanlac, I could not do otherwise than praise it," said Oma Willis, 108 Gilbert street, Evansville, Ind., who has been car inspector for the Evansville & Ohio Traction Company for a number of years.

"By the help of Tanlac," continued Mr. Willis, "I have gotten rid of a case of stomach trouble and disordered kidneys that made my life miserable for seven long years. I was never able to do any hard work, and spent hours at a time in bed almost as helpless as a child. I could get but very little sleep at night and never knew what it was to have a well day. My back kept me in misery all the time, my shoulders pained me so I could hardly raise my arms to put on my shirt and I always had to get someone put on my collar and tie. My wife was in poor health, too, and this made it mighty blue at our home. I managed to get in a week's work now and then, but it was always with the hardest sort of efforts and lots of pain.

"We spent a small fortune and did everything possible trying to get our health back and I had lost nearly all hope of ever getting well. I had read about Tanlac and my druggist told me of the splendid results others were getting from it and advised me to try a bottle. At the time I began taking Tanlac I only weighed one hundred and fifty pounds and by the time the first bottle was gone my troubles were rapidly leaving and I noticed myself getting heavier. My appetite soon came back in full force and my stomach stopped troubling me after eating. My back not only feels as strong as it ever did, but the pain has all disappeared and my kidneys are in fine shape. In fact, I don't have a pain of any kind and I now balance the scales at one hundred and ninety-eight pounds. My wife has also taken Tanlac and it has made a new woman of her. I now have a fine healthy family and as happy home as anybody."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manilla by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, and in Carthage by Otto G. McCarty.—(Adv.)

Home Talent Show Will Have a Most Fitting Costume in Which Native Costumes Will be Used—Tickets Are Now Being Sold Must Be Exchanged For Reserved Seats on June 30.

The big patriotic finale in the second act of Katcha-Koo is said to be well worth the price of admission in which over 250 people will appear on the evenings of July 1 and 2 at the Graham Annex auditorium. All of the allied nations will be represented in song and dance numbers.

Two of these pretty groups will be the Jackies and the Belgians. The Jackies will be Helen Pierson, Margaret Herkless, Rosaline Reed, Florence Fleehart, Magdalene Arbuckle, Virginia Haydon, Bertha Haywood and Helen Lambert.

Tickets are now on sale by members of the cast or they may be purchased from any member of the Tri Kappas or Psi Iota Xi sororities, who are presenting the play. The price of the seats will differ, varying from the location, the higher priced seats being from the third row back to the first row under the balcony in the center and two rows on the aisles from the third row back to the first row under the balcony. The rest of the house will be sold cheaper, but all seats are to be reserved.

The tickets now on sale must be exchanged at Pitman and Wilson's drug store, when the seat sale is advertised.

Katcha-Koo will be the largest and most spectacular home talent play ever staged in Rushville, all the cast wearing special costumes and there will be special oriental scenery. It is hoped that everyone will give their support to the ticket sale as every dollar over the bare expenses will go to a most worthy civic organization The Board of Childrens Guardians.

Transportation System Simply Doesn't Exist—Only 6 out of 100 Engines Working

INSUFFICIENT FREIGHT CARS

To Overcome Situation Russia Must Recruit Large Force of Interested Employees

By CHARLES McCANN (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

London, June 5 (By Mail).—"Take every railroad engine in Europe to Russia and it will still take you two years to build up that country's transportation system to normal". This was the startling statement made by one of the foreign office experts on the Russian trade situation, and was advanced as an argument against those who talk optimistically of getting vast supplies of grain and foodstuffs out of Russia in a "day".

Russia's transportation system isn't. It simply doesn't exist—as transportation systems are conceived in countries like the United States and Great Britain, officials well informed declare. Reliable information gleaned by the British intelligence department shows that only 6 out of every hundred engines in Russia were in working order early in 1920. And of these six, the majority operated on wood and other inferior fuel.

Furthermore, whenever an engine broke down, the worn parts were replaced from another engine, thereby rendering that engine doubly incapacitated and immensely harder to repair when materials finally became available.

Railway cars and freight cars also are insufficient and in bad repair. Hundreds of thousands of worn-out wheels which only need re-tiring are piled at the railway terminals. The airbrake system doesn't exist because only a few cars in a train have valves which are in working condition. Naturally speed in transportation is obtained only at the sacrifice of safety.

Another difficulty which Russia will have to overcome before her immense transportation system can be re-established is the training and recruiting of a large force of railway employees who have the interest of the roads at heart. Since the war, the personnel of the railways, never much to speak about, has deteriorated rapidly. Thousands of the best mechanics have been killed, died of disease or left the country. Other thousands have gone into other industries or ceased work altogether for the more lucrative vocation of being a member of the "Red Army".

The will to work, investigators report, is conspicuously absent among the former laborers. Their limited taste of communist Utopia has merely served to whet their appetites for more leisure. Lenin, Trotsky and Company have at last realized the boomerang effect of certain of their doctrines and have taken decisive steps to remedy the situation. "The industrial army" was their reply. What its sources might have been no one ventures an opinion. Unfortunately, the Polish offensive forced their immediate re-transfer into fighting units again. That Great Britain, Italy and av-en France are very desirous of opening up trade with Russia is unquestioned. Europe at large desperately needs grain and foodstuffs. Where it comes from is of no great moment. The reported under-mercage and poor crop prospects in America has only served to accentuate the situation. Already breadstuffs have taken unprecedented increases here. France and Italy are almost certain to be on ration again this winter. Of Germany, no one in the entente countries except the statesmen give a thought. But even these conditions are bound to be worse than in entente countries.

Consequently the allies are anxious to put Russia to work as her proletarian rulers themselves appear to be.

But even though Russia produces, they are again confronted with the task of getting the grain to the seaboard. What the outcome will be nobody knows. The hopelessness of the outlook has driven more than one government official into despair.

The most deplorable development, from the European economic viewpoint, of the present year thus far, is the Polish-Ukrainian offensive against the Bolsheviks.

Ukraine, the bread basket of Russia and Central Europe, is facing a summer and autumn of guerrilla, if not major, warfare. Cultivation of her immeasurably rich lowlands and uplands even now has become a myth. The spring planting season is half over and the fields are being utilized as battlegrounds rather than grain production.

Most of the parliamentary opposition to Britain's "indefinite" attitude towards the Polish offensives is based upon economic necessity rather than love for either Poland or the Soviets. Generally speaking British Labor is not nearly as "utopian" as painted by leaders in Commons. But it is concerned over whether it is to buy bread from the United States at an adverse rate of exchange or from Russia at a favorable one. The "vicious cycle" of increased wages followed by increased costs of living has begun to penetrate into the consciousness of the consumer. What he now wants is a way out.

Until the dispute between the Ukrainians and the Soviets has been settled, and Poland has retired to her legitimate borders, nothing can be accomplished. Consequently, Russian trade, which will take months to get under way after political complications have been removed, waits through seemingly unending periods of increasing political delays.

Succinctly—the beginning is not yet in sight.

THEY PILED UP BIG SCORE

Rushville Furniture Team Defeats Francis Team 37 to 9

The Rushville Furniture Company's baseball team had little trouble in piling up a big score against the C. E. Francis team Saturday afternoon on the West Third Street diamonds, the score being 37 to 9. The game was one of the regular Saturday afternoon games being played among the local factories. Next Saturday the Park team will play a tie game with the Rushville team, as both teams now have won twice from each other.

WOMEN STRONG IN BRITISH POLITICS

No Question Discussed in Commons Without Members Having Regard For Women's Opinions

WOMEN VOTERS PREDOMINATE

Question of High Prices Agitates Womenfolk to Exclusion of Everything Else

(By United Press)

London, (By Mail).—The political strength of English women is becoming increasingly widespread and effective.

No question is discussed in Commons without all the members having due regard for its effect on women's opinion. When the bill admitting women of 21 years and over to the franchise becomes law, there will be something like a million more women voters than men voters.

Lady Asquith in a recent speech to the British Housewives Union told her audience that a prominent member of Parliament had told her that "women have got the Commons well on the run," while she also reminded them that the "fear of the loss of a vote is still the best pin with which to prick an M. P."

At all women's meetings it is clearly indicated that the women have found a new use for their scissors—they intend to snip through every inch of red tape that stands in the way of progress. They claim that the government suffers from want of backbone on account of party politics, and while they admit that a government of archangels would not satisfy the people of the country at present, at least they intend that the obvious steps towards improvement shall be taken, and taken immediately.

The question of high prices at the moment agitates the minds of Britain's womenfolk to the exclusion of everything else. With dogged perseverance they are hammering away at the House of Commons. Members are besieged regularly with postcards on the subject. Meetings are being held in all parts of the country, and so far two resolutions have been forwarded to the Prime Minister. One is that the government shall cut their loss and clear the docks, and the other that state monopoly shall be removed "in toto" in order that competition shall have a chance to bring prices down.

No political flutter is complete without a woman speaker. There are hundreds who say that Asquith owes his generous majority at the recent Paisley election to the witty and clever speeches of his daughter, Lady Bonham Carter.

It was without doubt the hard work put in by Lady de Frece (of "Vest Tilly" fame) that secured for her husband Sir Walter, a bouncing return.

To Clean Brass Articles. Do not throw away squeezed lemons; use them for cleaning brasses and dish covers. Put a pinch of whiting on the article to be cleaned, and rub it in well, using the lemon as a sponge. You will be surprised to see how much dirt you can remove in a very short time and with little trouble. Brasses cleaned in this way keep clean longer than when done with ordinary polish.

Knights of Pythias Lodge May Undergo Changes at National Convention in Minneapolis

GROWTH IS ENCOURAGING.

Plans to Reduce Age From 21 to 18 Years Entrance and Change Benefit Laws

Plans for extension of the Order and assumption of greater obligations for its advancement, will, according to announcement sent out by the officers, be the central thought at the next convention of the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias. This legislative body of the Order will be convened in Minneapolis, on August 10, the date having recently been changed from August 3 by official notice from the supreme chancellor.

Nearly one million members of the order in the United States and Canada are interested in what will be done at this convention. Among the many proposed changes in the present laws are those which will, if enacted, provide for admission to membership at 18 years of age instead of 21; life membership; changes in funeral benefit laws; and a national tuberculosis sanatorium for members of the order.

While representation of each domain is based upon Pythian population, under the statute each grand domain must have two supreme representatives. Some have as many as five. This method of selection gives a true representation of the order and provides a method by which the supreme body is influenced only by conditions prevailing in all parts of the country.

The order has made phenomenal growth during the last year. The gain in membership for 1919 is reported to be over forty thousand. There has been much activity in the uniform rank and it is expected that over thirty thousand men in uniform will attend the national encampment held in Cleveland, Ohio, in July.

The insurance department report shows an increase of protection amounting to a gain of over five million dollars last year making a total of over $103,000,000 of protection provided by this branch of the order. During the first four months of this year the membership was increased over three thousand.

The Knights of Khorassan known as the "playground of Pythianism" has more than doubled its membership in the last two years. It is with

Fifty-five grand domains will have representation at the convention and it is probable that the session will last ten days.

CHINA TO BUILD UNIVERSITY

American-British Institution to Cost More Than $3,600,000

(By United Press.)

Shanghai, (By Mail)—Grounds of the summer palace of a Manchian prince, just outside of Peking, are to be the site of a group of new buildings, constructed in the best style of temple architecture but with interiors of the most modern American type—the new home of Peking University, an American-British institution, if plans announced here today are successful. More than $3,600,000 is to be spent on the new plant.

Most of the money for the original outlay is expected to come from American sources but the Chinese are adopting a new attitude toward foreign educational standards and, according to Dr. J. L. Stuart, president of the University, it appears certain that sufficient funds will be raised in this country to establish and maintain the main vocational and other special chairs that are included in the program.

Horse That Keeps His Head.
